
ABOUT THE AUTHORS

GAMALIEL G. GONZALES is an Associate Professor at the Cebu Technological University. His major research interests focus on Mathematics Teaching, Teacher Well-Being and Instructional Design.

NICK JOHN B. SOLAR graduated from West Visayas State University-Iloilo City with a degree in BS Education. Prior in joining the Department of Education, He has been a faculty and a researcher at University of San Agustin-Iloilo City. His research interests include education, disaster risk reduction and management, river conservation, food development and social sciences. He also an active research collaborator of several State Universities and Colleges in Region VI, namely Aklan State University, Carlos Hilado Memorial State College-Talisay City, Negros Occidental, Iloilo Science and Technology University and West Visayas State University. Mr. Solar published his researches in both local and international journals. He is a maker of several utility models. Currently, he is one of the research coordinators in Schools Division of Iloilo.

PERLA CARPIO is a Professor at the Polytechnic University of the Philippines College of Arts and Letters. She is author and co- author of several Filipino textbooks for tertiary students as well as editor of high school textbooks. Prof. Carpio was former Chairperson of the Kagawaran ng Filipinolohiya of the College of Arts and Letters. Her great desire for the intellectualization of Filipino as the country's national language gave her the opportunity to participate in debates in national television. She has also served as resource speaker on variety of topics that express in Filipino as well as present papers not only in the Philippines but also in Malaysia and Japan.

RICARDO CARPIO is an assistant professor of the Kagawaran ng Filipinolohiya, College of Arts and Letters of the Polytechnic University of the Philippines. He has presented researches locally and nationally on topics pertaining to language variety, corpus planning and language acquisition. His passion for teaching led him to co-author instructional materials for language and literature as well as become a contributor of research articles in senior high school and tertiary textbooks.

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

ROGELIO M. HERNANDEZ served as Officer-in-Charge at Rizal Technological University in 2019 and as the Vice President for Development and Administration from 2014 to 2019. He was also the former Director of Finance and Head of Internal Services from 2009 to 2012. He also served as Head of Related Subjects for General Education from 2008 to 2014. He is currently a faculty at the College of Arts and Sciences. He handle subjects such as: Management, Mathematics, Chemistry, Marketing, Accounting, Total Quality Management. He is also a faculty member in the Senior High School department and the Graduate Studies Program.

He graduated from Rizal Technological College with Bachelor of Science in Business Administration major in Accounting degree, Master in Business Administration, major in Management, Doctor of Educational Management major in Management in 2008.

MERLENE M. BERNAL was the former Vice President for Research, Information and Extension services of RTU from 2012 to 2014 and was also the Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences from 2007 to 2012. She specializes in Chemistry, Biological, Natural, Physical and Environmental Sciences.

MELANIO T. OLEA was a full time faculty of the College of Arts and Science at Rizal Technological University as Professor 1. He taught physical and biological sciences, physics, and chemistry.

ANN SHEILA C. DEL ROSARIO is an Associate Professor II in Bukidnon State University, Malaybalay, Bukidnon, Philippines. She is a faculty of the College of Education for almost 15 years teaching English and Professional Studies subjects. Her research interests are centered on social sciences particularly involving Gender and Development, Education, and Language.

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

HILDA F. SAN GABRIEL is currently Chairperson of the Polytechnic University the Philippines Department of Cooperatives and Social Development. She has published numerous articles in international and local journals, books, reviews on various topics in social economy and development. She currently serves as Editor-in-Chief of CHED recognized journal' Social Sciences and Development Review. Prior to her appointment as Chairperson, she was former Director of the Institute for Social Sciences and Development, Development Education Officer of the Bishops Businessmen's Conference Livelihood Foundation, Inc., and a faculty member at the School of Management of the University of Asia and the Pacific. Dr. San Gabriel is a recipient of multiple research fellowships from development agencies such as Canadian International Development Agency, International Development Research Centre, Ateneo de Manila University-Institute on Church and Social Issues and Urban Research Consortium. Her research interests are peoples organizations, small medium enterprises, workers cooperative, social development, social capital and innovation.

RIMANDO E. FELICIA is also a people's educator and student-for-life of Social and Community Development, Economics and Political Economy. He took his Masters in Community Development in the College of Social Work and Community Development while immersing in the social movement and working in several NGOs in labor, people's education and sustainable agriculture. He is currently a faculty member of the PUP Department of Cooperatives and Social Development and also designated as the Chief of the Center for Poverty Alleviation and Community Development Studies. Since 2016, Sir Mandy is also the Editor-in-Chief of the Bisig Journal, PUP's only bilingual research journal on labor, social movement and community studies. Occassionally, he is Ka Mando of the Kwentong Obrero educational video series. He also worked behind the camera and was involved in the documentaries such as Kwadradong Daigdig (an early exposition of Globalization), Lupa ay Laya (History of the Peasant Movement in the Philippines) at Proletaryo (History of the Workers Movement in the Philippines).